

Central Texas Republicans,

I am supporting Rob Curnock for Congress in District 17, and am actively involved as a volunteer in his campaign. I believe Rob is in the best position to win in 2010, following his close run in 2008, which gave him great name recognition and hundreds of volunteers just like me all over the District. I also believe Rob is the best candidate to represent us. He is a principled conservative, and he shares our values on issues from taxes to the role of government, from the right to bear arms to the sanctity of life, and from the need for energy independence to maintaining a strong national defense.

Most of all, though, I'm standing up for Rob in 2010 because he stood up for me -- and for you too -- in 2008 when his own party told him not to run. Rob showed courage and tenacity in the face of great odds, and that's just the kind of attitude I want in my Congressman. Please join me in supporting Rob Curnock, with your time, money and most importantly your vote.
